HEALTH COMMUNICATION

AND ETHICS

(Bachelor of Arts)

The Interdisciplinary Studies (Discover Degrees) offer students the opportunity to pursue personal academic and professional interests by combining three areas of concentration from the liberal arts and/or professional disciplines. Health Communication and Ethics combines science, communication and business.

There are three components to your Health Communication and Ethics major at Young Harris College:

1. General Education Curriculum (CORE): Most of this coursework (46 hours) is completed during your first two years of college.
2. Major Coursework: This coursework focuses on your major area of study. The majority of your major coursework will be completed in your junior and senior years of college, however, important sequences might need to be completed as early as your freshman year.
3. General Electives: These are extra courses you choose from any course area that do not fit elsewhere in your major. You may focus your elective coursework around a specific discipline and earn a minor.

For each of these components, you may click on the hyperlink where each component is explained in full detail on the YHC Catalog.

Additional Requirements

1. Foreign Language is a requirement for all majors. More details are provided under the Expand Horizons section in the CORE.
2. You are encouraged to begin your math studies during your first year of college. See the math placement chart attached to this email for the appropriate math course for you based on your SAT/ACT score. Need help determining your math placement? Contact the Student Success Center.
3. Each student who earns a degree from Young Harris College is required to complete a certain number of Cultural Exploration and Writing & Speaking Intensive (W/S) courses.
4. All graduation requirements are listed in the YHC Catalog.

Sample Schedule

This is only a sample schedule. You are strongly recommended to take the courses in italics during the fall semester of your freshman year. You are required to take ENGL 1101 and FOUN 1000 your first semester. These courses are in bold.
